

THREE FOUND UNDER BED

ENTERED G. T. NEWHALL'S HOUSE IN ORANGE YESTERDAY.

His Name Is John P. Ryan—He Is An Orphan and Only Fifteen Years Old—Came to New Haven Saturday and Put Up at the Newhall House—Had Lived With a Farmer in Connecticut.

John P. Ryan is fifteen years old and an orphan. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was brought to police headquarters and charged with theft. He entered the residence of G. T. Newhall in Orange, and was caught before he got out. Ryan came to New Haven last Saturday and went to the Newhall house. He was assigned to room 17 and occupied it during the night.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was seen to leave the house. According to his own story he crossed West ever and walked to the bridge. After walking about for some time he came to the Newhall residence. He watched the opportunity and slipped through an open window. He found his way into a bedroom and rifled several pairs of trousers. He found thirty-five cents in one pair and a watch in another. He then passed on to the bureau where he saw something that almost made his hair stand up on end.

It was a revolver and he stole it. He was a very nervous fellow. He was very nervous before the youth had stolen the watch. He advanced, and then he stole the watch. He was very nervous before the youth had stolen the watch. He advanced, and then he stole the watch. He was very nervous before the youth had stolen the watch. He advanced, and then he stole the watch.

MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION

Closing Session of Its Annual Convention Held at Yale—Closed the Next Meeting Place—Officers for the Next Year.

The closing sessions of the Modern Language Association of America, in its annual convention, were held in this city Saturday. The following papers were read: "The Italian Novel," by Dr. Mary Augusta Scott, Baltimore, Md.; "Das Drama in der neueren Literatur," by Dr. T. S. Barker, John Hopkins University; "The Source of the Dramatic Idea of Lenz," by Dr. Max Winkler, University of Michigan; "Trollius and Cressida: A Study of Chaucer's Method of Narrative Construction," by Thomas R. Price, Columbia University; "Fiction as a College Study," by Prof. Bliss Perry, Princeton University.

At a business meeting in the afternoon it was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Cleveland, O., next winter. A vote of thanks was passed to the Cleveland club of Yale, for its hospitality during the present convention. Officers were elected as follows: President, Charles H. Grandgent of Harvard; vice-president, George L. Kittredge of Harvard; secretary, Eugene H. Babbitt of Columbia; treasurer, Lewis F. Mott of New York University.

CHRISTMAS IN SAVANNAH.

How the Celebration of It Looks to a Southerner.

To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER:

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 25, 1895. What unexplained mysteries there are in the customs even of civilized men. How strangely in the course of time the origin and purpose of a holiday may be lost in the manner of its observance. How came the miserable firecracker to destroy the dignity of the anniversary of our national independence, and rob us of all the patriotic pride and pleasure we could have taken in the day? Instead of being for Americans the greatest day of all the year it is the day most of all to be dreaded. Yet the Fourth of July has suffered no such utter perversion as has Christmas here in Savannah. It is regarded almost as a desecration in the first century after Christ if the day of His birth had been celebrated by big dinners and the giving of presents. Still, it may be pleaded that the good cheer and the gifts of our modern Christmas savor of that "good will to men" which was a part of Christ's message. But what would the Christian

Savannah Hair Balm
The Combined Skill
And experience of the world has produced nothing so valuable to the hair as this balm. It cures itching humors, keeps the scalp cool and moist, and prevents the hair from falling out. It is the best hair dressing ever made. It is sold by all druggists and is the best hair dressing ever made. It is sold by all druggists and is the best hair dressing ever made.

father have thought if they had been told that the most sacred day in the history of the world would be celebrated in a Christian city by the firing of firecrackers and the blowing of tin horns? Yet so it is. The same limp of the person which has possessed the Fourth of July has captured Christmas here in Savannah, and he has not only bewitched the small boy, but all classes of the people.

On Christmas eve it seemed to us northerners as if the whole population had taken leave of its senses. The streets—not only the sidewalks, but the roadways—were literally full of people firing firecrackers and blowing tin horns. We noticed near us an elderly, well-dressed man blowing vigorously upon his tin horn, also a group of aristocratic ladies and gentlemen, walking two by two, blowing, or rather playing, upon tin horns that had three hideous notes. It was not a carnival. There were no processions, no throwing of bon-bons or sweetmeats, only a pandemonium of noise in what everybody seemed to be ridiculously happy. The noise begins on Christmas eve and continues all through the next day, and there are fireworks on Christmas night. It is the same as our Fourth of July, with the addition of the universal tin horn. This tin horn is the same which forms a part of the college curriculum in the north. It is not regarded here as a mark of intellectual superiority, as a nigger can blow it as well as a white man.

I have made inquiries as to the origin of the strange mode of celebrating Christmas, but all in vain. It is as much without history as without reason. But it is here apparently to stay. Savannah has city ordinances, as we have in regard to firecrackers and fireworks, but as with us they are mere ornaments of the city records, evidence of the better sense of the community. There is, of course, another side to Christmas in Savannah. In the Episcopal churches there are the usual services on Christmas eve, and there is mass in the Catholic churches in the morning, but it is difficult to listen either to prayers or the music. There is the old-fashioned English Christmas dinner, and there are the Christmas gifts. The colored waiters in the hotels won't let you forget those, and people, in spite of the noise, will wish you a merry Christmas.

WALLINGFORD.

There was a crowd at the armory Saturday evening to see the game of basketball between Company K and Company L of New Britain. The game was hotly contested from start to finish and was won by the visitors by a score of 9 to 7. H. C. Lawrence of New Britain was umpire and Robert J. Lane of Company K was referee. After the game dancing was indulged in until nearly midnight.

The smokestack on the Muddy river pumping station sadly needs a coat or two of paint, as it is already red with rust.

The most interesting feature of the entertainment on the plains Saturday evening was J. W. Fitzgerald with his musical chair.

Business in the stores Saturday evening was far from rushing, as is general in the case after Christmas.

Charles P. Shelly died at his home on North Farms Saturday morning of pneumonia, aged twenty-seven years. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Alvin Scott of Boston are the guests of Rev. J. L. Scott of North Main street.

The Simpson Nickel company's factory closed Saturday for the annual vacation. Hall & Elton company will close the latter part of this week.

There was a large attendance at the Christmas tree festivities in St. Paul's parish house Saturday evening. The supply of electricity intended to illuminate the tree failed to arrive and the discarded candles had to be used. Every scholar received the customary box of candy and orange.

George A. Lane has for the past week been in charge of the Adams Express office in Fair Haven and will continue there until further notice.

T. A. B. Officers Elected.
The Central T. A. B. union of this city elected officers last evening as follows: President, James P. Landers; vice-presidents, T. F. Meagher, James Kelly, Thomas Murray, James J. Moakley, Patrick Kent, J. G. McGowan, Martin Flynn; recording secretary, Miss Minnie Stammers; treasurer, Patrick Palsay.

A committee to arrange for rallies was appointed. It is proposed to hold more rallies during the winter.

ARRIVED AT NORFOLK ROADS.

Peculiar Voyage of the Schooner George F. Dudley.

Word has just reached this city of the arrival in Norfolk Roads of the schooner George F. Dudley, Captain Wilson, of this city. The Dudley sailed from Bridgeport ten days ago, just after the severe northeast gale. Captain Wilson reports, however, that when about eighty miles southeast of Sand Hook the three-master was struck by a hurricane from the eastward, which nearly threw her on her beam's ends, as she was light, and which threatened to dismast her. As it was, everything held except the sparker and masts. The latter was split in the blow from one end to the other. The sparker went away with it in pieces and the sparker boom went by the board. The aftermast, which got entangled in the broken spars, was a total wreck. Everything movable was washed from the deck. Captain Wilson says that it was only because his forevigilant held that he was able to reach Norfolk without assistance. He worked the vessel into port under foresail and jib.

The Ministers' meeting in Center church chapel this morning at 10:45 o'clock will be a meeting for prayer for the coming Mills meeting, led by Rev. D. M. James. All ministers are invited.

Please on Church street has McClure's Magazine for January. It contains the third installment of the life of Lincoln and a full article on Blaine by Murat Halstead.

A PREVALENT DISEASE.

Not Necessarily Dangerous, but May Become So.

American men and women suffer from a very general disease, dyspepsia. Dyspepsia has many symptoms. Thin, pale people are generally dyspeptic. Hollow cheeks, bad breath, acid eructations, palpitation of the heart, hot and cold flushes, headaches, nausea and vomiting, all these are symptoms of dyspepsia.

What does dyspepsia mean? In two words, imperfect digestion. How can we remedy it? Not alone by resort to drugs. We must rest the stomach.

For this purpose we must put into it a food which is already digested and which will aid the digestion of other foods. We must take Shaker Digestive Cordial, for this is just such a preparation. It contains food which will be absorbed at once. It also contains principles which will assist the digestion of other foods, while, last but not least, it contains a combination of those drugs in the cultivation of which the Shakers have been so successful, and which act by stimulating the liver and bowels.

Imperfect digestion is often caused by overwork of the digestive apparatus, too much food, food eaten too quickly, nervous worry, etc.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial is the most successful remedy for indigestion that has ever been made. A single 10 cent bottle will afford relief in most cases, although this small quantity cannot be expected to effect a perfect cure.

If you find it suitable in your own case, continue its use. All druggists keep it and can supply you with an interesting descriptive pamphlet.

Death of J. R. Costigan.

J. Robert Costigan of Webster street, aged thirty-eight, died Saturday after an illness of only a few days. Last Sunday he contracted a severe cold in his head, where he hung, and he neglected to properly care for himself. He grew worse and Tuesday night was taken very ill with pneumonia. Mr. Costigan was a native of Ireland and had been in this country for many years.

Death of Mrs. John A. Roth.

Mrs. Anna Roth, aged forty-seven, wife of John A. Roth, died at the family residence, 11 Admiral street at 5 o'clock Saturday morning from cancer of the breast. A few days before she had undergone an operation and blood poisoning set in. Funeral services will be held over the remains at 3 o'clock this afternoon, at 1 o'clock the body will be taken to Hartford for burial.
